

SCOUTING POSTAL STATIONERY

John B. Adams, Assistant Editor

A stamp is a design imprinted onto paper. Actually, only the ink is the stamp. A stamp may be a cancel (e.g., a "handstamp" or a rate stamp) or a design which incorporates prepayment. The paper which incorporates a stamp of prepayment is either postal stationery or an adhesive stamp. And it may be the face and/or the back of the item which is stamped by the government.

Postal stationery items are similar to regular stationery, except that the former have a franking imprint incorporated into the design. This includes envelopes, letter sheets, letter cards, aerogrammes, postal cards, newspaper wrappers and bands, and many ancillary items such as postal savings envelopes, pneumatic stationery, parcel post stationery and money order cards.

Those items currently known which have a Scouting relationship are: postal envelopes, postal letter sheets, postal aerogrammes, postal cards, and parcel post stationery.

In many cases, postal stationery designs are exceedingly well done because the artist has ample space in which to work, not being restricted by the dimensions associated with an adhesive stamp, and can use a large portion of the stationery to carry out the theme.

In the U.S.A., the upper right corner design of postal stationery, which usually incorporates the prepaid postage, is not considered a separate or removable stamp. Postal regulations do not allow this indicium to be cut out and used on other stationery for prepaid postage.

Higgins and Gage numbers are used unless otherwise indicated, and refer to the system of numbering used in the Higgins and Gage "World Postal Stationery Catalog" published by Classics Philatelics. Many of the newer items do not have assigned H&G numbers as yet, and will not have until their respective sections of the catalog are updated. Since postal stationery publishing can be infrequent, when another major catalog has listed Scout postal stationery, the name of the other catalog and the catalog number is given. Other catalogs referenced, and the abbreviation for them, are:

Catalog Abbreviation		Full Title
Kessler	K	"Catalogue of Aerogrammes"
Michel	M	"Privatganzsachen Katalog"
Ruch	R	"Katalog Specjalizowany Znakow Pocztowych Ziem Polskich"

In this section, the Selling Price is defined as the price charged by the government post office and includes an additional charge added to the face value. "FDI" means first day of issue.

The three 1964 Dubai postal card sets were issued the same day. They are listed below in the order found in the H&G catalog; examination shows that the first set of 3 has clearer definition and design than the other sets. This order may be different from that listed by some sellers of Scout stamps.

Thanks for information about Scout postal stationery items to the following:

Joe Bieniecki, Jan Dvorak, Patricia Feiner, Steinar Halvorsen, George V. Holland, Philippe van Hille, Jan Jelinek, Frederick P. Lawrence, Barry Mann, Wayne Menuz, Carlos C. Swanson, Arkadiusz Walinski, and William G. Wells.

Just as there are many adhesives which can be marginally considered to be Scout stamps, so there are many postal stationery items which are of a questionable nature. The author is eager to learn of any issues which readers consider to be properly includable as Postal Stationery. Readers are invited to write to John B. Adams, P.O. Box 2914, Sacramento, CA 95812. Please be explicit concerning your reasons for asking for the inclusion of the particular item(s) and send photocopies of the item(s). It will be helpful if you include information relating to the date of issue, as well as other information which you may have.

Local Revolutionary Scout Post

1 postal card

#1 (Military and Occupation)
Denomination: 10 heller
Color: bl and blk, on white card
Quantity Issued: 1,000
Designer:
Engraver: J. Panenka Printer: Kollman of Kral Vinohrady in Prague

Process: Embossed blue printing from the same die as the 10 heller Local Revolutionary Scout Post adhesive stamp

Paper:
Size: 140.5mm x 92.5mm

Comments:

(1) This postal card was printed on orders
from a revolutionary group, the Czech National Committee of Liberation prior to October 28, 1918. The order was placed by
M. Knapp and Josef Rossler Orovsky, President of the Scout Alliance and leader of the Czech Yacht Club and member of the National Committee.

The printer was selected upon recommendation of book publisher M.
Knapp of the Prague district of Karlin.

The postal cards were intended for use between the Scouts themselves and those who later became members of the new government and political personalities. The cards were not sold to the general public and are considered official delivery items.

(2) Official delivery mail carried, by Scouts sponsored by the Czech Yacht Club, during the fight for liberation.

(3) Use ended on November 25, 1918.

(4) A few postal cards exist with an overprinted Masaryk Scout adhesive stamp added and cancelled December 21st, the only day of use of the Masaryk Scout adhesive stamps.

(3) The surcharge went to the Boy Scouts, literally the "Tiger Cubs" of the "Wild Tiger Corps."

(4) The green ink of the 3s value on some copies has been changed to a bluish color
due to oxidation.

(5) The 5s value is known with the top
1/3 of the overprint missing.

(6) As the FDI is unknown, the date
shown above is for the earliest known cancel on (the back of and with the appearance of a control mark on) a Type I overprint postal card, a 3s from Ban Pong. The earliest known postal use of a Type I overprint

(5) The 2s value is known with the tiger's head missing inside the overprint.

(6) The 2s, 3s and 5s values are all known with a double overprint.

(7) The 5s value is known with an inverted overprint.

(8) A forgery of the 5s value has been reported.

(9) As the FDI is unknown, the date
shown above is the earliest known verified
postal use of a Type II overprint postal card, a 3s from Nagor Pathom. The same date is also the earliest known usage of any adhesive stamp with the Type II overprint.

Printer: Government Printing Office
Process: Two runs on two-color offset lithograph, phospho-tagged Panels: 42 cards per sheet (6 wide and 7 deep)
Paper:
Size: 139.5mm x 82.5mm

Comments:

(1) The design shows Borah Peak, the Lost River Range, and the Scouting fleur-de-lis emblem.

(2) Missing colors known: (a) blue and black omitted; and (b) red and yellow omitted.

(3) This postal card was a belated compromise by the U.S. Post Office to commemorate the XII World Boy Scout Jamboree, as the U.S.P.O. had issued adhesives for the Boy Scouts in 1950 and 1960, and wasn't interested in a further issue. The USA 1967 stamp program was announced without including a Scout issue. Carl Rueth, Editor of "Linn's Stamp Weekly" suggested a commemorative postal card, and the card was announced in May, only 3 months prior to issue.

This was the first Scout postal card for a World Boy Scout Jamboree.

The postal card was valid for postage to Canada and Mexico, in addition to all points in the USA and possessions.

The card indicium was the largest the USA had issued to this time in 1967, measuring almost 2½ inches wide.

(4) There exists a first day ceremony program, 8½" x 11", listing notables expected to be in attendance. There also exists a postal announcement sheet, 8½" x 11".

(5) There were 451,585 first day cancels.

Comments:

(1) The Scout movement as known in the free world was completely forbidden in Poland immediately after World War II, and in 1946 the Związek Harcerstwa Polskiego (Z.H.P.) was changed and modeled on the Russian Pioneer movement. This was greatly disliked by the Polish youth, and caused a large loss of Scouting membership and support. In 1956, the Hungarian revolution took place, as did major changes in other East European Communist nations. As a result, at that time, the Z.H.P. in Poland went back to much of its pre-war uniforms, badges, and traditions.

(2) This postal card shows the Polish Scout Cross.

(3) Varieties are known with light grey ink, or dark grey ink, or shades in between.

(4) Warsaw, 14.X.1968 pictorial cancel is known. However, the Ruch catalog states that October 5, 1968 is the FDI.
