FOREWORD

“Scouts on Stamps of the World” 1973 Edition

“Scouts on Stamps of the World” was first published in 1949 by Harry D. Thorsen Jr. then a Scoutmaster in Oak Park, Illinois. By 1952 Harry had so many interested collectors who were corresponding with him that he decided to start the Scouts on Stamps Society. At that time he was asked to join a study group called “Youth Organizations on Stamps” which included communist youth stamps as well as Boy and Girl Scout stamps. When Harry objected, and suggested that a new group be formed that would include only Scout issues, Harold Bearce of Kansas City, Missouri agreed to be the Bulletin editor if Harry would serve as the president. Since that time over 4,000 members in forty-two countries have been collecting Scout stamps, Scout covers, Scout cancels and Scout seals with the help of “The Journal” of this society.

New editions of “Scouts on Stamps of the World” in 1955, 1964, 1968 and now in 1973 have brought this topical hobby of stamp collecting up-to-date. In recent years the difficulty has been to determine what is a Scout stamp? The authors do not assume authority over which stamps should be collected in this category. The general rule is that the postal issue depicts, honors or commemorates the Boy Scout, Girl Scout or Girl Guides nationally or internationally; some Scouting event or activity; or some individual who’s given outstanding service to Scouting. Obviously, the ideals of Scouting can only exist in the free world and in non-communist countries. Stamps of questionable postal use and value have been listed in the “Addenda” until catalogers and international philatelic federations have more information as to their legality as postage stamps.

Each stamp is identified by its Scott Catalogue number, unless otherwise indicated.

The authors and editors of “Scouts on Stamps of the World” wish to acknowledge their sincere appreciation to all members of SOSSI who have contributed material and suggestions in the production of this edition.

This edition of "Scouts on Stamps of the World" contains information and illustrations about issues of stamps related to the Boy Scout and Girl Scout movements of 129 countries and states of the world. The first edition of the book published in 1949 by Harry D. Thorsen, Jr. showed only 16 countries with Scouts on Stamps issues. Up-dated editions were published in 1955, 1964 and 1968 and attained a world-recognition and circulation. This new book presents the latest authentic information available on all Scouts on Stamps issues released up to the end of 1972. The new chronological loose-leaf format will make it a most useful resource to both collectors and students of Scout philately. Supplements to the book will be published periodically.

April 10: #180. Baden-Powell. 3 pence

Seven years before the Boy Scouts program was originated by Sir Robert Baden-Powell of England, there took place in South Africa the Boer War. It was here that Col. Baden-Powell defended the town of Mafeking against great odds and many hardships, so that after a siege of 219 days he became the successful hero of Great Britain. Using boys in Mafeking for postal and messenger service, they were formed into a Cadet Corps led by a youth known as Cadet Sergeant-Major Warner Goodyear. Years later "B-P" referred to Goodyear as his first boy Scout. Here the founder of the Scout movement realized the ability and interest of youth in a program of camping skills, first aid and service to others.

The stamps were urgently needed in the besieged town for local mail, and engraving was not available. Captain Greener designed the Baden-Powell stamp from a photograph by D. Taylor who also was the official printer of the stamps using a "blue-print" method called the ferro-prussiate process. Exposing the glass plate negatives to sunlight caused various shades of blue in the sheets of twelve stamps. The first Baden-Powell 3d stamps measured 18½ mm. The 1d Cyclist stamp was somewhat larger. When the cyclist design for the 1d value was submitted by Dr. Will Hayes, he retouched the background of houses, and added the frame, scrolls and inscription. The larger size cyclist stamp showed better detail than the original smaller Baden-Powell stamp, so production was stopped on the smaller BP stamp and the larger 21mm stamp replaced it.

Scott No.	Quantity
#178 Goodyear	9,476
#179 (Small) B-P	6,072
#180 (Large) B-P	3,036

While intended for local mail only, many of the stamps were used for mail outside when native runners could get through the enemy lines. Stamps still on the original envelopes are rare auction items today.

#1-4. (Zumstein)

10 haleru. Blue; 20 haleru. Red

The Sea Scouts provided postal service from November 7 to 25, 1918, for the National Committee of Liberation, while their country was having a new birth of freedom. Under the leadership of their Chief Scout, Roessler Orovsky, official mail was distributed between the city hall, police, parliament, and the railroad station in the capital city, Prague. An ingenious method of producing the stamps for this service involved printing from a typographed plate with the perforations and the embossing all made in the same impression. This accounts for the outline of color seen on the perforations. The top inscription means "Czech Scout Post"; the lower means "In the Service of the National Government." Cancellation "N. V." in a circle is "National Committee." Cancel "Posta Skautu" is "Scouts Post" in black, violet and red inks. Produced from single dies there are no genuine pairs or blocks. The 10h was for post cards and the 20h for letters with the Scout collecting the fee upon delivery. Each letter was actually "registered mail," since the receiver was required to sign his own name in a rubber stamped space on the envelope, remove the contents, and return the envelope to the Scout as a receipt for delivery. Because of great intrigue and distrust of political enemies each Sea Scout had his signature on approved lists to be compared by the government officials before they accepted the mail and disclosed their identity. The Scouts, therefore, had to sign their names on the envelopes first, for this proof as official messengers. Forgeries of the stamps and envelopes are known and are crudely made. Post cards were printed from the 10 haleru plate and are very rare. Both stamps were overprinted on December 21, 1918 "Prijezd Presidenta Masaryk" for one day of postal use (means arrival of President Masaryk). Only 600 copies of each were unofficially printed and are therefore, questionable collectors items. (#3 and #4) These are also faked upon genuine stamps, as well as forged stamps. Some catalogs do not list these stamps, since they were issued before the country was organized. Yet, they have seen more postal service than many listed stamps.

#B18-23. Wild Tiger (Scout) overprint in black ink, type II

A visit by Baden-Powell to Siam prior to 1920, resulted in the most enthusiastic support of Scouting by King Rama VI who became the first president of the Siamese Boy Scouts Association. The public paid a tax to support Scouting when nineteen stamps and nine postal cards were overprinted on a supply of 1906-20 stamps and cards honoring their kings. Known as the "Wild Tiger Corps," the emblem of a tiger head and wording in Siamese and English of "Scouts Fund," appears in the rubber stamped surcharge:

TYPE III
 DECEMBER 1920

B24-30. Wild Tiger (Scout) overprint in blue/or red ink, type III

These stamps were all overprinted from metal type on the 1920 stamps showing King Vjirayudh:

Color Stamp	Color Paper	Color Overprint
B24—2s brown	yellow	blue
B25—3s green	green	red
B26—5s red	pink	blue
B27—10s black & brown	white	red
B28—15s blue	blue	red
B29—25s brown	white	blue
B30—50s orange & black	white	red

There are fake overprints on genuine stamps and cards. Very few covers have ever been seen and are auction items.

B12-17 exists cancelled on sheets of telegraph forms.

B16 exists with an inverted overprint: auction priced.

B25 exists with the bottom line of the overprint missing that reads: "Scouts fund" (bottom row of stamps on the sheet): auction priced.

Commercial mail and registered mail covers with other Siam stamps are more apt to be genuine.

Blocks of four can be found in all three types. The hand canceling of B12-23 shows the overprinting at different angles and shades of light and dark rubber stamp inking.

#B85. 1000 korona. Brown.
 Lithographed. 133,738

Hungary has the honor of being the first country to picture a Boy Scout on a postage stamp. One of eight in a set of sport stamps, the others show athletes skiing, diving, fencing, soccer, skating and hurdling. The cost was double face value plus 10% and represented income for these activities as well as Scouting. A four line inscription on the reverse side, certifies this cost. There are interesting athletic cancellations including an elusive Scout badge cancel. First day covers are rare auction items. Also imperforate. Designed by F. Helbing. The eight stamps were valid for postage only until Dec. 31, 1925.

These stamps celebrated the 5th anniversary of the accession of King Carol II to the throne as well as the national sports meeting held June 8. Each value shows the emblem of the Strajeri, the boy division of National Youth Organization of which Scouting was a part, although at this time they still were an autonomous organization. The surtax on B53-4 benefited Scouting. The OETR (Office for the Education of Romanian Youth) merged Scouting with other groups, so that by 1937 the Romanian Boy Scouts could no longer be affiliated with the Boy Scouts International Bureau. Fake cancellations are known: Timisoara, and Bucarest. Commercial registered mail covers are believed to be genuine. 50,000 sets printed by the Government Printing Works, Bucharest.
